To The People of Florida

For the past two years as Chief Justice, I have endeavored to accomplish one major goal: speed up the judicial process. As is commonly known, "Justice delayed is justice denied." The most pronounced criticism of our court system when I took office was many citizens were being denied justice because it took too long for judges to decide cases.

One of the first actions I took upon becoming Chief Justice was to create a Court Efficiency Committee, which later evolved into the Judicial Council. As a result of the work of that committee, the other justices of the Supreme Court and I took action to reduce court delay.

During my administration, efforts to reduce court delay were implemented in three major areas: time standards, technology, and Alternative Dispute Resolution. Time standards were proposed by the Court Efficiency Committee and the Judicial Council and were first implemented by me by administrative order. Quarterly reports on the number of cases exceeding the time standards were submitted by the district courts of appeal beginning October 1985 and by the trial courts in April of this year. Based on the statistics gathered and the recommendations made by the Court Statistics and Workload Committee, chaired by Justice Rosemary Barkett, these time standards were adopted by the Supreme Court as a rule of administrative procedure. With this information, the judges are now able to exercise greater control over their dockets and move cases along more quickly.

In the area of technology, we have introduced the use of microcomputers in the district courts of appeal to be used for word processing, case management, and budgeting. At the trial level, we have implemented a pilot project in two judicial circuits governing the use of computer-aided-transcription (CAT) technology. This new technology can be used to prepare transcripts as witnesses testify. We expect this system to be expanded on a statewide basis.

During the last two years, we have worked closely with the Study Commission on Alternative Dispute Resolution. Some of the recommendations of this commission have been enacted into law. We have seen a continuing proliferation of locally sponsored arbitration and mediation programs designed to assist citizens in reaching more congenial and quicker resolutions to their disputes.

I must add that none of this could have been accomplished without the dedicated effort of the State Courts' Administrator Ken Palmer and his staff. I wish to personally thank them for the wonderful job they have done. Furthermore, these programs could not have succeeded without the cooperation of the judges, the lawyers, the clerks of the circuit courts, the press and the public.

I also wish to thank Justices Adkins, Alderman, Barkett, Ehrlich, McDonald, Overton and Shaw for their wisdom and counsel and the members of the Legislature, the Cabinet and Governor Bob Graham for the assistance they have provided the Florida's judicial system. I hope that the actions I have taken to reduce court delay will be continued upon my departure for the benefit of all the citizens of Florida.

I must also mention that working with the Clerk Sid White, the Marshal Tony Smilgin, the Librarian Brian Polley, and their staffs and with my personal staff James Logue, Randall Reder, Nancy Shuford, Li Nelson, Pat Reed, and Ruth Sampson has been an extremely gratifying experience. Finally, I take this opportunity to thank you, the voters of this state, for giving me the privilege of being a public official for approximately forty years.

Sincerely,

Joseph A Boyd Jr

INTRODUCTION

This is a report of the business of the Florida State Courts System for fiscal year 1984-1985. Additional information through the period of June, 1986, has also been included in sections to keep the judiciary, and the general public informed about the activities and the operations of Florida's courts.

An overview of the Florida judicial branch presents information regarding the appellate and trial courts, including their organization and jurisdiction, number of judges, types of cases, case loads handled and pending, and data processing support services.

Additional information has been included on the three data reporting systems throughout the state: jury management, witness management and sentencing guidelines.

Finally, the appendices of this report contain detailed reference data on: Florida's judiciary in each district court of appeal, circuit court and county court; the purposes and membership of various court-related committees, conferences and councils; and detailed summary reporting system (SRS) data. It is hoped that such information may serve as a valuable resource tool and reference to which the reader may often refer.

FLORIDA STATE COURTS SYSTEM

OVERVIEW OF JUDICIAL BRANCH

The Florida judicial system is organized into two levels, appellate and trial. It is divided by statute into five appellate districts and twenty judicial circuits, as illustrated in Figure 1.

The appellate level consists of the Supreme Court and the district courts of appeal (DCA). The trial level consists of the circuit courts and the county courts. The number of judges serving each court is provided by general law, with the exception of the number of supreme court justices, which is fixed at seven by the state constitution under Article V. The Supreme Court is authorized by the constitution to recommend changes in appellate districts and judicial circuits and also in the number judges in the appellate and trial courts on the basis of uniform criteria which it has established. Such recommendations are certified to the Legislature prior to its regular session each year.

The legal jurisdiction of the circuit and county courts is provided by general law and is applied uniformly throughout the state. Direct lines of appeal extend to the Supreme Court from the trial level courts only in capital cases, bond validations and constitutional questions. Direct appeals from the county court to the district courts of appeal are permitted, however, in final judgments where the county has certified that the question has statewide application and is of great public importance.

THE SUPREME COURT

ORGANIZATION

The Supreme Court serves as the state's court of last resort. It sits at the capital, Tallahassee, and has statewide jurisdiction. Florida's first state Supreme Court was created by Florida's first state constitution in 1838, but was not actually established until 1845 when Florida achieved its statehood. The administrative structure, procedural authority and jurisdiction of Florida's State Supreme Court of today is set forth in Article V of the Constitution of the State of Florida.

The Supreme Court is charged with the responsibility of adopting rules for the practice, procedure and administrative supervision of all courts, at both appellate and trial levels. However, these rules may be repealed, if necessary, by general law enacted by a two-thirds' vote of the membership of each house of the legislature.

The Supreme Court consists of seven justices, each of whom is appointed to serve terms of six years. Each of Florida's five appellate districts is represented by at least one justice appointed from the respective districts. In 1976 the voters of Florida amended the Constitution to establish a merit selection and retention system for choosing justices of the Supreme Court. Appellate justices and judges are appointed by the Governor from a list of qualified persons recommended by a judicial nominating commission.

As the office term ends, the name of the justice or judge who desires to continue in office is listed on a ballot during general election for a merit retention vote. If the majority of votes are not in favor of the incumbent justice, the Governor appoints another person from the list of applicants approved by a judicial nominating commission.

When meeting to review cases brought before them, the concurrence of four justices is necessary for a decision and five justices are required to constitute a quorum. Powers and jurisdiction are exercised by the Supreme Court en banc (i.e., seven justices) for appeals involving capital cases, the validity of a state or federal statute, or provisions of the Florida or federal constitution.

The Supreme Court also has supervisory responsibility over The Florida Bar, which is charged with the maintenance of the highest standards and obligations of the profession of law. Florida has an integrated Bar, meaning that all lawyers admitted to the practice of law in Florida must be members of the official professional association which is under the Court's constitutional authority to regulate. The Bar assists the Court in various ways, such as providing recommendations regarding appropriate disciplinary action against lawyers and educational services to its members.

JURISDICTION

Jurisdiction of the Supreme Court, as set forth in Article V of the Constitution of the State of Florida, extends to the following matters:

1. Appeals from final judgments of trial courts imposing a penalty of death and from district court of appeal decisions which declare invalid a state statute or a provision of the state constitution.

2. Appeals from final judgments involving the validation of bonds or certificates of indebtedness, and decisions by the Public Service Commission involving electric, gas, or telephone service.

3. Decisions by a district court of appeal which expressly construe a provision of the state or federal constitution, declare valid a state statute, affect a class of state or constitutional officers, or directly conflict with another district court of appeal or a Supreme Court decision on the same question of law.

4. Pending matters in a district court of appeal which are certified to be of great public importance or which have a great affect on the proper administration of justice throughout the state.

5. Questions of law certified by the Supreme Court of the United States or a United State Court of Appeals for which there are no controlling precedents in the Supreme Court of Florida.

6. Writs of prohibition to courts, all writs necessary to complete the exercise of its jurisdiction, writs of mandamus and quo warranto to state agencies and officials, and writs of habeas corpus.

ADMINISTRATION

Chief Justice

The Chief Justice presides as the chief administrative officer of the judicial system, having the power to assign justices and judges, including retired ones who consent, to temporary duties for which they are so qualified and compensated. He is elected by a majority of the members of the court and assumes the position on July 1 of even-numbered years for a term of two years.

Should a chief justice die, retire, or become unable to perform such duties, the vacancy is promptly filled by the justice who has the longest continuous term of service on the court. This justice will serve the balance of the term or until a successor Chief Justice is elected.

In addition to jurisdiction over all of the courts in Florida, the Supreme Court also exercises its authority to create, establish, appoint and confirm positions, councils, commissions and committees to perform such duties as the Chief Justice directs.

Clerk, Marshal and Law Librarian

Each are appointed by the Supreme Court and serve at the Court's pleasure to perform various duties as so directed.

The clerk is responsible for maintaining custody of records, files, the seal of the Court, and records of proceedings. He is also charged with the responsibility of collecting filing fees in all cases filed in the Court, issuing mandates as directed by the Court, and recording and notifying affected parties of any final judgment. The first clerk was appointed to the position in 1849.

The marshal is given authority to execute the process of the Court throughout the state, deputize the sheriff or a deputy sheriff in any county for this purpose, and oversee the custodial functions of the Court building, its grounds and furnishings. The first marshal was appointed to the position in 1935.

The law librarian is the custodian of the Court's library, which is kept open for the Court's use at any time and for public use at any time from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday. In the Constitution of 1868, it was specifically stated that the clerk would also serve as the librarian. However, the passage of time proved that the needs of the library required the attention of a person working full-time. These responsibilities were separated, and the first full-time librarian was appointed in 1957.

Justice Data Center (JDC)

Until 1978, the executive branch of government provided data processing support for maintainance of statistical data on the judicial system. By August 1979, a central data center was in operation under the authority of the Supreme Court.

The Justice Data Center, located in the sub-basement of the Supreme Court Building, serves the data processing needs of the state courts system and the Department of Corrections. Its staff is made up of three administrative personnel, five technical personnel and seven operational personnel. Applications development personnel are located in each user agency. The Information Systems section of the OSCA provides such support for the state court system.

Recent accomplishments of the JDC include upgrading the computer facility by selecting and installing a new Central Processor Unit, reducing the average response time to less than 4 seconds; doubling the remote terminal network size to serve additional users; and directing computer hookup to the State Comptroller's Data Center, enabling JDC to provide SAMAS (statewide accounting) to the user community through their JDC terminals.

Hardware at the Justice Data Center consists of an IBM 3081D computer, 8 tape drives, 2 1100 line a minute printers and 2.75 billion characters of online storage.

Internal Auditor

The position of Financial Assistant/Auditor to the Chief Justice (Internal Auditor) was established in 1974 to assist the Chief Justice relative to his constitutional duties as the chief administrative officer of the state courts system. The internal auditor serves at the pleasure of the Chief Justice, acting in a confidential capacity and performing assigned duties.

In general, the duties of the internal auditor are to review, investigate or take such other action relative to programs, projects and other matters as assigned by the Chief Justice, and to report findings and recommendations thereon to the Chief Justice. Such assignments may include the review and evaluation of internal controls and the conduct of financial, compliance and performance audits of entitites in the state courts system. In the conduct of audits, the internal auditor complies with accepted governmental auditing standards and other accepted standards, when appropriate. The internal auditor may also serve in a liaison capacity with the Office of the Auditor General and other state agencies.

CASE LOAD

The case load of the Supreme Court is represented by the number of filings and dispositions of appeals in mandatory review cases; discretionary review of decisions of district courts of appeal, orders and judgments of trial courts and questions of law certified by the United States Supreme Court or a court of appeals; and original proceedings.

During 1984 the Supreme Court received 1,643 filings, a decrease of 2.6 percent from the 1983 total of 1,686 cases. In 1984 the Supreme Court disposed 1,597 cases, an increase of 5.3 percent from the 1983 total of 1,517 dispositions.

During 1985 the Supreme Court received 1,772 filings, an increase of 7.9 percent from the 1984 total of 1,643. In 1985 the Supreme Court disposed 1,762 cases, an increase of 10.3 percent from the 1984 total of 1,597 dispositions.

The largest number of filings and dispositions by case type in 1984 was discretionary review proceedings, which represented 53.1 percent of the total filings and 54.4 percent of the total dispositions. In 1985 the largest number of filings and dispositions was also discretionary review proceedings, which represented 59.2 percent of the total filings and 56.5 percent of the total dispositions.

See pages 17 through 21 for charts and graphs illustrating the Supreme Court filings and dispositions.

THE DISTRICT COURTS OF APPEAL

ORGANIZATION

By constitutional amendment and by statue, five district courts of appeal have been established in Florida. As specified in Article V (Section 4(a)) of the Constitution of the State of Florida, "there shall be a district court of appeal serving each appellate district."

A minimum of three judges must be in each district, but this number may be increased should the Supreme Court certify and the Legislature authorize additional judgeships. Three judges are required to consider each case, with the concurrence of two being necessary to render a decision. The legislature has created the following appellate districts:

First Appellate District (Tallahassee) - First, Second Third, Fourth, Eighth and Fourteenth Judicial Circuits.

Second Appellate District (Lakeland) - Sixth, Tenth, Twelfth, Thirteenth and Twentieth Judicial Circuits.

Third Appellate District (Miami) - Eleventh and Sixteenth Judicial Circuits.

Fourth Appellate District (West Palm Beach) - Fifteenth, Seventeenth and Nineteenth Judicial Circuits.

Fifth Appellate District (Daytona Beach) - Fifth, Seventh, Ninth and Eighteenth Judicial Circuits.

As of May, 1986, the five district courts were composed of twelve, ten, nine, nine and six judges respectively. All district court of appeal judges are subject to the same system of merit retention as are the Supreme Court justices (Article V, § 10).

JURISDICTION

Jurisdiction of the district courts of appeal, as set forth in Article V (Section 4) of the Constitution of the State of Florida, extends to the following matters:

1. Final judgments or orders of the trial courts not directly appealable to the Supreme Court or the Circuit Courts, including those entered on review of administrative action and interlocutory orders to the extent provided by rules adopted by the Supreme Court.

2. Reviews of administrative action, as presented by general law.

3. Issuance of writs of habeas corpus, mandamus, certiorari, probition, and quo warranto to the extent necessary to the complete exercise of its jurisdiction.

4. Final judgments certified by the county court as involving matters of statewide application and great public importance.

ADMINISTRATION

Chief Judge

Article V, section 2(c), Florida Constitution, and the Florida Rules of Court (Rule 2.040) provide that one judge is to be choosen by a majority of the judges of each district court of appeal to serve as chief judge of the district. If no judge receives a majority, the chief judge is chosen by the chief justice of the Supreme Court.

The chief judge is made responsible for the administrative supervision of the district court. He is specifically responsible for:

- Ordering consolidation of cases;
- Assigning cases to the judges for the preparation of opinions, orders, or judgments;
- Reviewing reasons for and times of contemplated absences of judges from the court;
- Dispatching of other court business as necessary.

The term of service for chief judge is two years, commencing on July 1 of each odd numbered year. Vacancies, when they occur, are promptly filled for the balance of the unexpired term.

Clerk and Marshal

Each district court of appeal appoints a clerk and a marshal who hold office at the pleasure of the court, performing whatever duties the court directs.

The clerks are located in the headquarters of the respective district courts of appeal. The clerk's time is fully devoted to the duties of the office, as he is not allowed to engage in the outside practice of law. Responsibilities of the office include keeping the seal of the court and any books, papers, records, or files relating to court business, preparing notices, docketing, performing ancillary functions, and closing cases.

The marshals for the district courts of appeal have six major responsibilities. These include courtroom duties, such as setting up the courtroom before each session and calling each session to order; fiscal duties, including budget preparation, maintenance of accounting records and processing of all invoices for payment; purchasing and inventory duties; library management; maintenance and other support services.

FLORIDA CONFERENCE OF DISTRICT COURT OF APPEAL JUDGES

The Florida Conference of District Court of Appeal Judges is composed of all active district court of appeal (DCA) judges.

The conference meets annually and conducts an annual education conference for the purpose of bringing developments in the law to all the appellate court judges. The conference is directed by its officers: the President, the President-Elect, and the Secretary/Treasurer. Their executive committee is composed of the chief judges from each of the district courts of appeal. (Refer to appendix for listing of officers and committees serving during FY 1985-86.)

CASE LOAD

The case load of the district courts of appeal is comprised of appeals, petitions for writs of certiorari and original writs.

During 1984 the district courts of appeal received 13,740 filings, a slight decrease from the 1983 total of 13,765. In 1984 the district courts of appeal disposed 13,610 cases, a decrease of 3.6 percent from the 1983 total of 14,118.

During 1985 the district courts of appeal received 14,237 filings, an increase of 3.6 percent over 1984. In 1985 the district courts of appeal disposed 14,223 cases, an increase of 4.5 percent over 1984.

The largest number of filings by case type was appeals which represented 85.7 percent of total filings in 1984 and 86.1 percent of total filings in 1985. Civil filings remained consistently higher than criminal filings during 1984 and 1985. In 1984 there were 8,257 civil and 5,483 criminal cases filed giving a ratio of 1.5 to 1. In 1985 there were 8,733 civil and 5,504 criminal cases filed which increased the ratio to 1.6 to 1.

The number of cases filed during 1984 and 1985 was greater than the number of dispositions in both years. As a result, the pending case load between December 31, 1984, and December 1, 1985, increased slightly. Approximately 98 percent (98.6 percent in 1984 and 98.7 percent in 1985) of the cases disposed were less than one year old at time of disposition.

THE CIRCUIT COURTS

JURISDICTION

The circuit courts constitute Florida's trial courts of general jurisdiction. The territorial jurisdiction of the twenty judicial circuits follows county lines. A chief judge for each circuit is chosen from among the judges of the circuit by vote of the circuit and county judges as provided by Supreme Court rule.

The circuit courts handle appeals from county courts except those appeals which may be taken to the district courts of appeal. Additionally, these courts have the power to issue writs of mandamus, quo warranto, certiorari, prohibition and habeas corpus and all writs necessary or proper to the complete exercise of their jurisdiction. Finally, the circuit courts are also given the right to issue injunctions and the power of direct review of administrative action as prescribed by general law.

Circuit court judges are elected to the court for a six-year term in non-partisan, contested elections against other individuals who choose to qualify for the office. To qualify as a candidate the individual must have been admitted to the practice of law in Florida for the preceding five years and be a resident elector of Florida. Should a vacancy occur, the appropriate judicial nominating commission will submit a minimum of three candidates for consideration to the Governor. The Governor will then appoint one of the nominees to fill the vacancy for the remainder of the term.

ADMINISTRATION

Chief Judge

As provided by the Florida Constitution in Article V and the Florida Rules of Judicial Administration, the chief judge for each circuit is chosen by the circuit and county judges in the circuit. However, if there is no majority vote, the chief judge will be selected by the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court. The term for the chief judge is two years and begins July 1 of each odd-numbered year. A chief judge may be re-elected to serve successive terms.

The chief judge has the responsibility of administrative supervisor over all courts, judges and officers of the court in the circuit. As administrator of the circuit, the chief judge is responsible for:

- developing an administrative plan for the circuit to run efficiently and properly;
- assigning judges to courts and divisions, and determining the length of each assignment;
- assigning judges to temporary duty within the circuit;
- appointing an "administrative judge" in any court or court division of the circuit to assist with the administration of that particular court or division;
- regulating the use of courtrooms, examining the dockets in the circuit, requiring status reports of the actions on the dockets; and
- examining the status of every inmate in the county jails.

Trial Court Administrator

Each of the twenty circuits has a trial court administrator assisting the chief judge in carrying out his administrative duties. The trial court administrator is selected by a majority vote of the circuit judges in his circuit and reports directly to the chief judge. The trial court administrator may provide support and assistance to the chief judge and other judges in the following management areas:

- Budget administration
- Fiscal administration
- Facilities management
- Personnel administration
- Public information

- Caseflow management
- Jury management
- Witness management
- Information systems management
- Court reporting management
- Jail population management
- Court technology
- Dispute resolution
- Guardian ad Litem
- Court interpreters
- Pretrial release
- Probation

Clerk of the Court

The clerk of the circuit court is elected by the voters in his county for a term of four years. His office is located at the county seat. In counties where the necessity arises, the clerk has the authority to establish a branch office and to staff the office with a deputy clerk. The deputy clerk will have the authority to carry out the duties of the clerk in his absence.

The clerk keeps a progress docket on all proceedings going before the court. He is the recorder of all documents authorized or required by law to be recorded in the county where he is clerk. These documents are recorded in the "Official Records" which is the general series of books where the clerk is to register the time of filing, the filing number of each document filed for record, the kind of document, and the names of the parties on the document. The clerk is responsible for recording documents upon payment for the services rendered.

CONFERENCE OF CIRCUIT COURT JUDGES

As provided by Florida Statute 26.55 the conference of circuit court judges meets annually to elect a chairperson. The chairperson then assumes the responsibility of calling all meetings and appointing all committees to effectively accomplish the goals of the conference. The membership is composed of active and retired judges throughout the state. The conference is responsible for:

- recommending improvements to the judicial system;
- recommending improvements in the rules and methods of practices and procedures in the courts;
- reporting their findings to the Supreme Court.

The chairperson of the conference must report to the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House not less than 60 days prior to the beginning of the legislative session. At that time, the conference chairperson will advise the President and Speaker of any recommendations the conference may have concerning the laws of the state, amendments, or legislation which the conference would like to have considered during the session. (Refer to appendix for current listing of the 1985-86 officers and committees.)

The most dramatic change occurred in the criminal division, which experienced a 84.8 percent increase in the number of filings and a 95.1 percent increase in the number of dispositions between 1978 and 1985. Within the criminal division, the most notable change between 1978 and 1985 was in the "crimes against property" category. During this period crimes against property filings rose 183.0 percent, while the dispositions rose 114.1 percent. Other changes in filings in the criminal division during 1978 through 1985 were: a 37.4 percent increase in capital offenses; a 83.9 percent increase in crimes against persons; a 55.1 percent increase in drug offenses; and a 19.9 percent decrease in all other felonies. During 1984 the circuit courts received 163,604 criminal filings; 257,837 civil filings; 67,419 probate filings; and 96,623 juvenile filings. During 1985 the circuit courts received 175,934 criminal filings; 288,961 civil filings; 70,176 probate filings; and 103,655 juvenile filings. Criminal and juvenile delinquency filings reflect the number of defendants or juveniles accused. Civil, probate and juvenile dependency proceedings reflect the number of complaints or petitions filed.

See pages 56 through 57 for pie charts illustrating filings and dispositions by case type and page 58 for a chart illustrating filings and dispositions per judge for each circuit. Page 59 contains a graph illustrating the change in filings and dispositions from 1983 through 1985.

Dispositions 1984-1985

In 1984 the circuit courts disposed 544,262 cases, a .8 percent increase over the 1983 total of 540,170 cases disposed. In 1985 the circuit courts disposed 596,227 cases, an increase of 9.5 percent over the 1984 total. The most dramatic change occurred in the juvenile division which experienced a 16.9 percent increase in the number of dispositions from 1983 to 1985.

During 1984 the circuit courts disposed 151,723 criminal cases; 241,609 civil cases; 60,572 probate cases; and 90,358 juvenile cases. During 1985 the circuit courts disposed 160,113 criminal cases; 272,172 civil cases; 62,530 probate cases; and 101,412 juvenile cases. Criminal and juvenile delinquency dispositions reflect the number of defendants or juveniles disposed; civil, probate and juvenile delinquency proceedings reflect the number of complaints or petitions disposed.

Jury Trials 1984-1985

In 1984, 5,675 circuit cases were disposed by a jury trial. This is a decrease of 14.2 percent from the 1983 total of 6,613 cases disposed by a jury trial. In 1985, 5,754 circuit cases were disposed by a jury. This represents a 1.4 percent increase over the 1984 total. The beginning of a jury trial is when the jury is empaneled.

During 1984, 3,120 or 55.0 percent of the jury trials were conducted in the criminal division; 2,555 or 45.0 percent of the jury trials were conducted in the civil division. During 1985

3,124 or 54.3 percent of the jury trials were conducted in the criminal division; 2,630 or 45.7 percent of the jury trials were conducted in the civil division.

See page 48 for charts illustrating jury trials per judge for each circuit. Page 58 contains a graph illustrating the change in jury trials from 1983 through 1985.

Reopened Cases 1984-1985

Reopened cases are cases previously reported as disposed that are reactivated or resubmitted to the court. This definition includes both modifications and enforcement of previous decisions.

In 1984, there were 106,975 reopened cases reported in the circuit courts. During 1984, the circuit courts reopened 30,583 criminal cases; 54,574 civil cases; 3,129 probate cases and 18,689 juvenile cases.

In 1985, the circuit courts reopened 114,000 cases. This is a 6.6 percent increase over the 1984 total. During 1985, the circuit courts reopened 31,962 criminal cases; 58,383 civil cases; 3,273 probate cases; and 20,382 juvenile cases. The high number of reopened cases in the civil division for both 1984 and 1985 is due to the large number of domestic cases (e.g., child support and dissolution) that are resubmitted to the court. The high number of reopened cases in the juvenile division for both 1984 and 1985 is due to the large number of violations of community control and foster care review hearings.

See page 49 for further information regarding reopened cases.

COUNTY COURTS

ORGANIZATION AND JURISDICTION

Each of Florida's sixty-seven counties has a county court which falls within the administrative supervision of the chief judge for that circuit. The chief judge may appoint a judge in each county to serve as the administrative judge, and a deputy court administrator may be appointed to assist with administrative responsibilities.

The county courts serve as the trial courts of limited jurisdiction. They have original jurisdiction in all criminal misdemeanor cases not arising out of the same circumstances as a felony which is also charged and in all violations of municipal and county ordinances. In civil matters, county courts have original jursidiction in all actions at law in which the matter in controversy does not exceed the sum of $5,000 exclusive of interest and costs and which is not within the exclusive jurisdiction of the circuit courts. Civil actions of $1,500 or less are handled through small claims rules of procedure. In addition, county courts have original jurisdiction in all criminal or civil traffic cases. County court judges also serve as committing magistrates.

County court judges are elected to the court for a four-year term in non-partisan, contested elections against other individuals who choose to qualify for the office. To qualify as a candidate, the individual must have been a member of The Florida Bar for five years and be a resident of the county in which he serves. In counties with a population of 40,000 or less, the individual must only be a member of The Florida Bar. Should a vacancy occur, the appropriate judicial nominating commission will submit a minimum of three candidates for consideration to the Governor. The Governor will then appoint one of the nominees to fill the vacancy for the appointed term.

CONFERENCE OF COUNTY COURT JUDGES

The conference of county court judges was created by the adoption of Rule 1.120, Rules of Judicial Administration. The purpose of the conference is for:

- the betterment of the judicial system of the state;
- the improvement of procedure and practice in several courts; and
- conducting conferences and institutes for continuing judicial education and to provide forums in which the county court judges of Florida may meet and discuss mutual problems and solutions.

The conference is managed by its officers, an executive committee, and a board of directors. The officers are the president, president-elect, immediate past president, secretary and treasurer, and one vice-president elected from each appellate court district. The executive committee is composed of the elected officers of the conference and an executive secretary. The board of directors consists of the executive committee and a member elected from each judicial circuit.

The conference holds an annual meeting; however, between annual meetings all conference business is handled by the executive committee. (Refer to appendix for a listing of 1985-86 officers and committees.)

OFFICE OF THE STATE COURTS ADMINISTRATOR

The position of State Courts Administrator was created by the Court in 1971 to assist the Chief Justice in carrying out his duties as the chief administrative officer of the Florida judiciary. The State Courts Administrator serves at the pleasure of the Court and receives compensation as fixed by the Supreme Court.

The Office of the State Courts Administrator is designed to provide for professional administration regarding non-adjudicative functions of the state's judicial system. The duties of this office include preparing and submitting a tentative budget request to the Court and presenting the final budget to the legislature; representing the state court system before the legislature and other bodies regarding other matters which affect the state court system; coordinating, managing and providing technical assistance to court-administered programs thoughout the state; acting as staff to committees, councils, and commissions which have been appointed by the Supreme Court; assisting in the preparation of educational and training materials for court-related personnel; maintaining uniform financial cost data, work loads, and other statistical information which reflects the business of the court system.

To aid in the administration of the state courts system, the State Courts Administrator is authorized to employ support staff as deemed necessary by the Supreme Court. As shown by the organizational chart on the following page, the Office of the State Courts Administrator is divided into three major divisions: Legal Affairs and Education, Court Programs, and Administrative Services.

ADMINISTRATIVE SERVICES

This division is composed of four sections which, together, are responsible for coordinating the preparation of the budgets, processing all accounting transactions, developing and administering purchasing policies, and handling all personnel administration for the State Courts System.

Fiscal and Accounting

This section develops and implements finance and accounting policy and procedure for budgets of the Supreme Court, the Office of the State Courts Administrator, the Justice Data Center, the District Courts of Appeal, the Circuit and County Courts, and for the Administered Funds (trusts, payments to witness and jurors, compensation to retired judge, statewide Grand Jury expenses).

Fiscal and Accounting is also responsible for the preparation of financial statements for the Florida Courts System agencies, as required by Florida Statutes, collaborates with the Auditor General and the State Comptroller on the Court System's statewide financial statement, and prepares audit responses as appropriate for state and federal programs.

Budgeting

Long-range and short-range budget planning for the State Courts System is performed by this section. In addition this section acts as a liaison with the legislative and executive branches, monitoring legislation, preparing fiscal notes and responses on State Courts budgeting matters, and coordinating financial policy development and administration with the Comptroller and the Governor's Office of Planning and Budgeting.

Purchasing

Assistance is provided by this section to court personnel in the preparation of requests for proposals, bids for commodities, contractual services, and purchasing decisions. It also acts as a liaison between the courts and the executive branch agencies, including the Comptroller, the Department of Insurance, and the Department of General Services.

Personnel

The development of personnel policy recommendations for the state courts system is performed by this section of administrative services. Classification of positions and pay plans are also administered by Personnel for all state-funded support positions of circuit courts, county courts, staff of the District Courts of Appeal, and the Supreme Court.

In addition to coordinating the recruitment and selection of employees, Personnel processes the payroll for the state courts system, handles requests for adjustments in compensation, and provides retirement calculations and assistance to members of Elected State Officers Class (ESOC) and regular members of the Florida Retirement System.

LEGAL AFFAIRS AND EDUCATION

The Legal Affairs and Education Section serves two major functions within the Office of the State Courts Administrator. The director acts as general counsel to the State Courts Administrator and provides legal support services to the OSCA staff and to the various courts throughout the state. Among the services provided to the court system during the last year are: contract drafting and negotiation assistance for major purchases of office automation systems for the appellate courts; legal research and advice concerning purchasing and employment issues in both the appellate and trial courts; review of existing, proposed and recently enacted statutory provisions as they impact on the Florida judicial system; and legal assistance to the OSCA on issues relating to programs, Guardian ad Litem, personnel policies and contractual purchases of equipment and services. General interest legal summaries of legislation, Supreme Court cases and ethics opinions by the Committee on Standards of Conduct Governing Judges are provided to the judiciary statewide.

This section also oversees all of the education activities of the judiciary which are funded through the Court Education Trust Fund and are directed by the Forida Court Education Council, which is chaired by Supreme Court Justice Ben F. Overton. This council is responsible for the development of a comprehensive education and training plan for court system personnel.

The Legal Affairs and Education Section organizes between twelve and fifteen in-state judiciary education programs each year and publishes a series of volumes titled, The Florida Judges' Manual, which covers a variety of legal areas.

Over the last year, this section has made great strides in the development of mid-career education programs for both levels of trial courts. The initial publication of an extensive manual on criminal law occurred during the fall of 1985. The Legal Affairs Section also provided legal support in the negotiation and purchase of a court automation system for the Florida appellate courts.

The Florida Legislature, during its 1982 session, passed Public Law 82-186 creating a Court Education Trust Fund. The 1985-1986 budget for this fund totals $560,768 and is administered through the Supreme Court by the Florida Court Education Council, as stipulated by Section 25.384(5), Florida Statutes. The trust fund supports orientations, in-service training and continuing education programs for judges at both the appellate and trial levels, as well as continuing education programs for the administrative support staff and certification programs for the clerks of the court.

The need continues for involvement of all segments of the judicial branch in education and training, to avoid problems inherent in having new judges learn only through experience on the bench, to keep experienced judicial offices up to date on developments in the law, and to provide a forum for the introduction of new ideas that improve the administration of justice.

Florida's judicial personnel have the tradition of participating in quality, state and nationally-based educational programs. In-state courses were attended by nine-hundred and sixty (960) judicial participants, and out-of-state courses were attended by one hundred and one (101) judicial participants.

National courses are sponsored by such organizations as the American Bar Association (ABA), the American Academy of Judicial Education (A.A.J.E.), the Institute for Court Management (I.C.M.), the National Judicial College (N.J.C.), the American Judicature Society (A.J.S.). A variety of courses are offered including ones addressing general jurisdiction, appellate opinion writing, conflicts of law, management for chief and presiding judges, civil evidence, alternative dispute resolution and jury management.

COURT PROGRAMS

The Court Programs Division of the Office of the State Courts Administrator consists of six sections which oversee and provide technical assistance to courts throughout the state.

DWI Coordination

The Supreme Court created the position of DWI School Coordinator to coordinate DWI schools throughout the state of Florida. The coordination office is responsible for their regulation and supervision, providing for the establishment of standards, training and certification of schools, instructors and educators, inspection of programs, and the operation of a media center of current films. The office also publishes a bi-monthly newsletter known as the Florida DUI Tieline and performs educational research on alcohol, drug abuse and drinking drivers.

Funding for the Office is provided by a Trust Section 25.387, Florida Statutes and is administered with the advice of the DWI Trust Fund Commission.

During 1986 the office began the development of an extended alcohol safety program for multiple offenders and problem drinkers. The course is designed to impact on the attitudes and beliefs of this population. The recent research on the DWI schools has revealed that the educational course has been effective in reducing recidivism among the drinking driver population.

Traffic Court Review Committee

This section's main purposes are to consider and to investigate all complaints concerning the administration of the Florida Rules of Practice and Procedure on Traffic Courts and to make recommendations to the Supreme Court for changes in the traffic rules.

In addition to its work on forms such as uniform traffic citations, it also develops, compiles and maintains the Florida Traffic Court Manual for use by judges, clerks, state attorneys and law enforcement agencies.

Sentencing Guidelines

This section provides staff support to the Sentencing Guidelines Commission in establishing and evaluating a uniform set of standards which guide sentencing judges in the sentencing decision-making process.

It also provides technical assistance to the bench and the Bar on the same, monitors the implementations and the impact of such sentencing guidelines throughout the state of Florida, and serves as a legislative liaison when necessary. (Refer to page 116 of this report for a detailed discussion of sentencing guidelines.

Guardian Ad Litem

The State of Florida Guardian ad Litem Program evolved in response to federal and state mandates that the court shall appoint guardians ad litem to represent abused/neglected children in related civil and criminal judicial proceedings. The unit oversees the statewide development, implementation, and monitoring of circuit-wide GAL offices, assuring that each circuit program provides services as specified in the Florida Statutes, Chapter 415, and in the Florida Rules of Juvenile Procedure, Rule 8.590.

In order to ensure excellence of service provided by the GAL programs, the Florida Supreme Court recently adopted a Minimal Standards of Operation Manual by which program structure, administration, appointments, case practice and case supervision can be evaluated. The programs are in all 20 judicial circuits and had 651 volunteers and 3,581 appointments statewide in 1985.

The GAL program office occasionally interfaces with other agencies to assist in the promulgation of comprehensive pieces of child protection legislation and to increase the accessibility of legal services for children.

Information Systems

The main purpose of the Information Systems Section is to support the judicial branch in its data processing endeavors. Its staff provides technical assistance and performs research in areas relating to automation of court support applications.

The Information Systems Section has successfully implemented the first phase of the District Courts of Appeal Automation Project in four district courts. This first phase entailed the provision of office automation systems for the appellate courts. The system integrates word processing and data processing and contains a Burroughs shared logic processor and personal computer work station. The systems installed at the First, Second and Third District Courts of Appeal consist of a sophisticated word processing program, legal dictionary, data processing applications for personal calendaring, spread sheet accounting, and graphics capabilities. The installation of this equipment is part of a five year plan for computerizing the entire appellate system. The purpose of the plan is to ensure that the systems used by the various district courts of appeal and the Supreme Court in recording cases and communications electronically will be compatible in the future.

The district courts of appeal case management system is currently being developed by OSCA staff in conjunction with the district courts. The case management system will provide for docketing, indexing, case tracking and management, calendaring, case assignment, case consolidation, recusals, disqualifications, issue tracking, monthly statistical and other reports, and workload measures. Also, telecommunications links have been established between the appellate courts for electronic mail and with the Supreme Court's Justice Data Center, which serves as a centralized information repository and communications message switcher. Future plans include providing access to legal research data banks, such as the Florida Statutes and Laws of Florida, Administrative Rules, and subscription services such as Westlaw.

The goals of automation of the court include improving the quality of case-related decisions by providing information and data processing support; improving the speed and timeliness with which decision making, opinion production and general case processing is conducted by the courts; and improving the overall management efficiency of the courts.

Management and Coordination

This section is responsible for providing various support services involving court information and management programs and responsibilities throughout the state.

One of the major problems that has confronted the court system in trying to implement better management techniques in the last few years is obtaining reliable data on the courts' workload. The Management and Coordination Section provides statistical analysis and information to the Supreme Court to assist with making judicial certification decisions, and provides staff support to the Court Statistics and Workload Committee.

Additionally, this section oversees the operations of a Statistical Reporting System (SRS) for trial and appellate courts, which includes data on case activities and status. Justice James Alderman, when Chief Justice, created the Court Statistics and Workload Committee to study problems dealing with data and statistical collection. The committee delivered its report November 1985 containing 12 recommendations. The main recommendations call for modification to the Summary Reporting System (SRS) or procedures the clerks of the court use in categorizing the recording cases.

By separate administrative order, dated September 10, 1985, then Chief Justice Boyd required that pending caseload reports be prepared by the clerk of the circuit court and submitted to the OSCA on a quarterly basis. The first report was an inventory of the number of pending cases on December 31, 1985, in each court division. Subsequent reports reflect the number of active and inactive pending case in each court division by age category. These reports reflect the number of cases pending on March 31, June 30, September 30, and December 31, and are due fifteen days after the close of the reporting period.

To obtain advice on improving the administration of the court system, the Supreme Court adopted a rule creating the Judicial Council, which is composed of the leaders of the different judicial levels. The M&C Section provides staff support to the Judicial Council. This council, which is chaired by Justice Ben F. Overton, has made several recommendations including the establishment of time standards for completing litigation. In response to the first recommendation, former Chief Justice Boyd entered an Administrative Order on April 12, 1985, establishing time guidelines for various types of cases.

M&C is responsible for providing management information and technical assistance to court-associated programs throughout the state, including statewide grand jury, jury management, witness management, and victim assistance. (Refer to pages 93 through 107 in this report for a more thorough review of the Jury and Witness Management Programs.)

The 1985 Legislature appropriated $600,000 to establish a pilot project in two circuits for court reporters to have Computer-Aided Transcription, more commonly known as CAT systems. M&C administers this program. The CAT system allows a court reporter to record testimony on a tape that is inserted into a computer which automatically transcribes the symbols into English for editing. The transcript is rapidly printed out, eliminating the time-consuming process of typing. This method saves countless days in the preparation of the record of a case being appealed. M&C monitors the activities of the pilot sites and coordinates the development of management and evaluation guidelines for project operations.

In addition to the above activities, the M&C Section provides research support to the Sentencing Guidelines Commission, assists trial courts in analyzing problems of delay in the processing of cases, and provides direction to a dispute resolution center and other dispute resolution activities.

In 1984, the Legislature created the Study Commission on Alternative Dispute Resolution. The commission delivered its reports March 1, 1985, and February 1, 1986, recommending that comprehensive court-annexed mediation and arbitration services, consolidated under court dispute resolution centers, should be established in each judicial circuit. M&C staff acted as primary staff to this commission. A state-level Dispute Resolution Center was created in 1986 as a jointly-sponsored program of the Supreme Court and Florida State University College of Law. The center provides services to judges, law students, arbitrators and mediators and serves as a research library and clearinghouse for information on dispute resolution alternatives.

Public information, such as this report, reports on court programs and related commission work, and the state courts system newsletter, is gathered and disseminated by M&C. The Judicial Forum published on a bi-monthly basis, informs the Florida judiciary and other interested parties as to the news concerning state and national judiciary.

JURY SYSTEM MANAGEMENT

Since 1978, the Office of the State Courts Administrator has operated a Juror Utilization and Management Program. This effort is based on the premise that an efficient jury system benefits the juror, the court and the state by reducing costs while making jury service more convenient. Jury system operations in Florida are monitored at the state level through the jury system management report, a monthly statistical summary of juror utilization in the local courts. Nationally-endorsed standards for effective system performance are used to evaluate and compare juror management practices across the state. The standards address the quantitative aspects of juror utilization as well as the qualitative dimensions of juror service.

As a result of the program and the commitment of local courts, substantial progress in jury system administration has been made statewide. Table 1 and Table 2 show the performance of each county on three recognized indices of efficient juror management for calendar years 1984 and 1985. These indices and their related standards are:

(1) Summoning Yield: a comparison of the number of jurors available to serve on the first day of service to the number of prospective jurors summoned for the term. The standard is 40 percent or more.

(2) Juror Days per Trial (JDPT): the average number of juror days needed to conduct a trial. This index multiplied by $10.00 yields the average cost per trial. The standard is 30 or less.

(3) People Brought In Per Trial (PBI): the average number of prospective jurors needed to start a trial. This index multiplied by $10.00 yields the average cost to start a trial. The standard is 18 or less.

The summoning yield was at or above the standard of 40 percent in 67% of the counties in 1984, while 74% of the counties met the standard in 1985. In 1984, 14% of the counties met the state standard of $300 average cost per trial. The percentage of counties meeting this standard rose to 24% in 1985. Over one-half of the counties had costs below $400 per trial in both years. Twenty-nine percent of Florida counties kept the average trial start cost below $250 during 1985.

In addition to these performance figures, Florida courts displayed other positive juror management practices in 1984 and 1985. One quarter of all Florida counties operated under a reduced term of service for prospective jurors. Three counties have a two-day/one trial term, while 13 counties utilize single-day empanelment which results in a one-day/one trial service requirement. A number of other courts are experimenting with reduced terms of service and alternative voir dire methods in selected divisions of the court.

In 1984, 73% of Florida counties routinely used a telephone answering device to notify jurors that their appearance at court was not necessary. This figure rose to 76% in 1985. This practice is not only a significant convenience for prospective jurors, but also saves substantial money in juror per diem and mileage. An estimated savings of over $828,000 in 1984 and $920,000 in juror fees can be attributed to use of the code-a-phone.

For several counties, their performance in 1985 is notable when compared to previous years. Forty-one counties reduced their jury costs from 1984 to 1985. Table 3 shows the fifteen counties that reduced their jury costs by 25% or more over the last year. Their efforts reflect an estimated savings of over $100,000 on juror per diem in 1985. In addition, a substantial amount was saved in mileage and administrative costs per juror.

Table 4 and Table 5 list several counties that have consistently managed their jury systems in a cost-effective manner from 1983 through 1985 in "pool" and "non-pool" courts respectively. The essential element of a "pool" court is the sharing of jurors among several judges. The mere existence of a pool or assemble room is not sufficient to characterize a system as a "pool" court. Anytime a prospective juror appears before more than one judge, pooling is being practiced. While pooling is a more efficient method of assigning jurors to voir dire in a high volume court, the inability to predict actual trial starts and the number of prospective jurors needed may, in some instances, inflate costs.

WITNESS MANAGEMENT

The 1982 Florida Legislature passed legislation (Florida Statute 43.35) requiring the establishment of witness coordinating offices. The law mandates that the trial court administrator establish coordinating offices in each county within his judicial circuit.

Specifically, the offices are required to provide the following services to all witnesses in criminal cases:

- coordinate all court appearances for all witnesses;
- contact witnesses and obtain information so that they may be placed on call;
- notify witnesses whether to report as scheduled, or not report if their appearance is unnecessary due to case scheduling changes; and
- provide employer intervention if necessary.

In return for the establishment of witness coordinating offices, the state assumed witness fee costs associated with the appearance of:

- prosecution witnesses for any investigation, preliminary hearing or trial in a criminal case;
- witnesses on behalf of an indigent defendant for any investigation, preliminary hearing or trial in a criminal case;
- mental health professionals required in the defense of an indigent defendant; and
- expert witnesses testifying to the mental condition of an indigent defendant in a criminal case.

While the services that the witness coordination programs must provide are specified, how they are implemented is determined by the local jurisdictions. Several variations on program structure currently exist, largely determined by the size of the jurisdiction and whether or not a program was operating prior to the legislation. In some counties, the state attorney and public defender coordinate their respective witnesses independently, or the program may operate directly through the clerk's office. Other counties have witness programs which coordinate all witnesses. Case status information is provided through the cooperation of the state attorney and public defender offices. Additional services, such as transportation and referral services, are also provided to witnesses by some programs.

Two million dollars were appropriated for the reimbursement of witnesses for the period January 1, 1984, through June 30, 1984. Fifty counties chose to participate in the witness program and $1,507,774.65 was reimbursed. The 1984 Florida Legislature appropriated four million dollars for the continuation of witness programs during the 1984-1985 fiscal year. Of this amount $3,662,933.32 was reimbursed to the 52 counties participating in the program during the fiscal year 1984-1985.

Between July 1, 1984 and June 30, 1985, witness programs have:

- prevented at least 672,382 unnecessary witness appearances, resulting in an estimated cost savings* of $9,023,366.44;
- contacted 3,086 employers on behalf of witnesses; and
- successfully coordinated 273,027 witness appearances, maintaining an overall rate of 74 percent for witnesses who testified.

Staff from the Office of the State Courts Administrator have monitored witness programs in 38 counties. Major findings from these visits follow.

- Counties with a central coordinating office experience less problems in complying with legislative and the OSCA requirements.

* Estimated cost savings is calculated by dividing the amount reimbursed for the time period ($3,662,933.32) by the number of appearances (273,027). The result ($13.42) is then multiplied by the number of witnesses called off (672,382).

- Counties that have a law enforcement liaison coordinate the appearances of law enforcement officers more efficiently, resulting in a higher testified rate.

- Court procedures, e.g., failure to schedule docket sounding and acceptance of pleas after trial has begun, reduce the effectiveness of witness coordination procedures.

- Witnesses who are subpoenaed to appear at branch courthouses for non-trial meetings or in misdemeanor cases may not be as efficiently coordinated as other witnesses.

SENTENCING GUIDELINES

DEVELOPMENT AND IMPLEMENTATION

Sentencing guidelines were formulated in response to the reality of disparity in sentencing. Prior to the advent of sentencing guidelines, sentencing courts could impose any sentence within the boundaries established by the Legislature for the particular offense behavior at conviction. In the case of a second-degree felony, the sentencing courts could impose a sentence ranging from probation to 15 years of incarceration in the state prison system. There was no review of this type of sentence on the basis of length, and many subjective as well as objective factors could intervene in a particular case to result in a sentence widely disparate from sentences imposed in similar cases by other judges.

The Legislature, in the exercise of its authority to establish criteria for sentencing, determined that it was in the best interest of the state to develop, implement, and revise a uniform sentencing policy in cooperation with the Supreme Court. To further this cooperative effort, the Sentencing Guidelines Commission was created and given responsibility for the initial development of a statewide system of sentencing guidelines. After development, the commission was charged with the responsibility of evaluating the guidelines periodically and recommending changes on a continuing basis to ensure certainty of punishment as well as fairness to offenders and the citizens of the state.

The commission is composed of fifteen members, consisting of two members of the Senate appointed by the Senate President; two members of the House of Representatives appointed by the Speaker of the House; the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, or a member of the Supreme Court designated by the Chief Justice; three circuit court judges and one county court judge appointed by the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court; and, the Attorney General, or his designee. Other members are appointed by the Governor: one state attorney recommended by the Florida Prosecuting Attorneys Association; one public defender recommended by the Public Defenders Association; one private attorney recommended by the President of The Florida Bar; and two persons of the Governor's choice. The Chief Justice, or the member of the Supreme Court designated by the Chief Justice, serves as chairman of the commission. Those members of the commission appointed by the Governor, the President of the Senate, and the Speaker of the House serve two-year terms. The members appointed by the Chief Justice serve at his pleasure.

In establishing or modifying the sentencing guidelines, the commission is required to take into consideration current sentencing and release practices and correctional resources, including the capabilities of local and state correctional facilities, in addition to other factors. For this purpose, the commission is authorized to collect and evaluate data on sentencing practices in the state from each of the judicial circuits.

No later than October 1 of each year, the commission makes a recommendation to the members of the Supreme Court, the President of the Senate, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives on the need for changes in the guidelines. Upon receipt of such recommendations, the Supreme Court may, within 60 days, revise the statewide sentencing guidelines to conform them with all or part of the recommendations. However, such revisions become effective only upon subsequent adoption by the Legislature of legislation implementing the guidelines as then revised.

The Sentencing Guidelines Commission and the Office of the State Courts Administrator conduct ongoing research on the impact of sentencing guidelines on sentencing practices, the use of imprisonment and alternatives to imprisonment, and plea bargaining.

The commission, with the aid of the Office of the State Courts Administrator, the Department of Corrections and the Parole and Probation Commission, estimates the impact of any proposed guidelines on future rates of incarceration and levels of prison population.

GUIDELINE STRUCTURE

The guidelines utilize nine separate offense categories representing specific offense behavior. The particular categories are listed below:

Category 1: Homicide
Category 2: Sexual Offenses
Category 3: Robbery
Category 4: Violent Personal Offenses
Category 5: Burglary
Category 6: Theft, Forgery, Fraud
Category 7: Drug Offenses
Category 8: Weapons
Category 9: All Other Felonies

On the face of each of the individual scoresheets appear five factors consisting of Primary Offense at Conviction; Additional Offenses at Conviction; Prior Record; Legal Status at Time of Offense; and Victim Injury. Depending on the facts of any particular case, the above-listed factors yield a certain number of points which, when totalled, correspond with a recommended range of punishment. Guideline scoresheets are prepared by the state attorney or a probation officer in conjunction with the preparation of the pre-sentence investigation. Due to ethical considerations, defense counsel may not be compelled to prepare the scoresheet.

COMPLIANCE RATES AND DESCRIPTIVE STATISTICS

Since the statewide implementation of sentencing guidelines in October 1983, 65,883 offenders have been sentenced under the system. The majority of these sentences are for third-degree felonies (69%), followed by second degree (24%), and first degree (4%). The remaining three percent of the sentences are for life and first-degree-punishable-by-life felonies. The number and percentage of sentences reported for each statutory grade are shown in Figure 3.

DISTRIBUTION OF SENTENCES BY STATUTORY GRADE

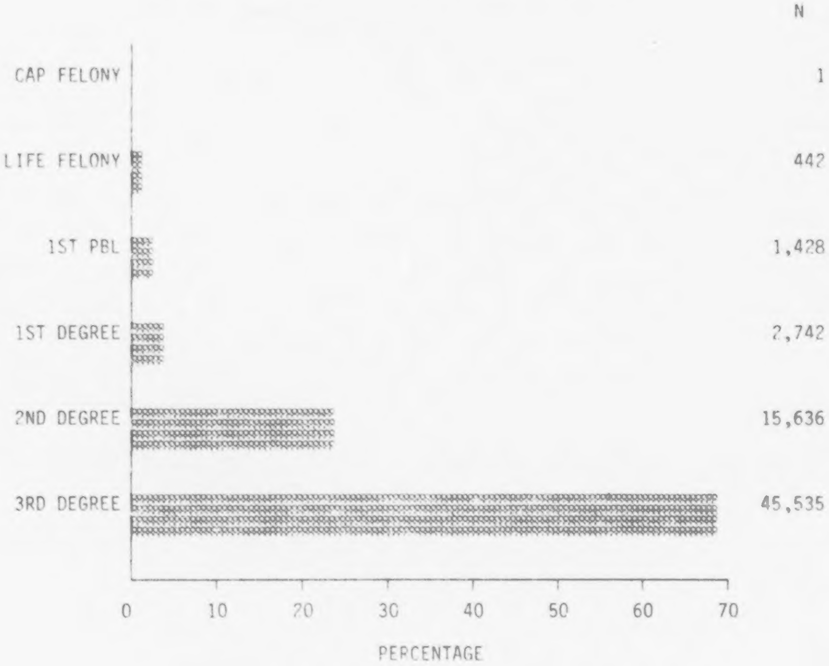

Figure 4 illustrates the breakdown of the sentences by offense category. Thefts, forgery and fraud represent almost one--third of the offenses sentenced under guidelines. Drug offenses are the next most frequent, comprising 20% of the offenses, followed by burglary (19%) and violent personal crimes (10%). Robbery, sexual offenses, weapon offenses, murder/manslaughter, and all other felonies each represent five percent or less of the sentences.

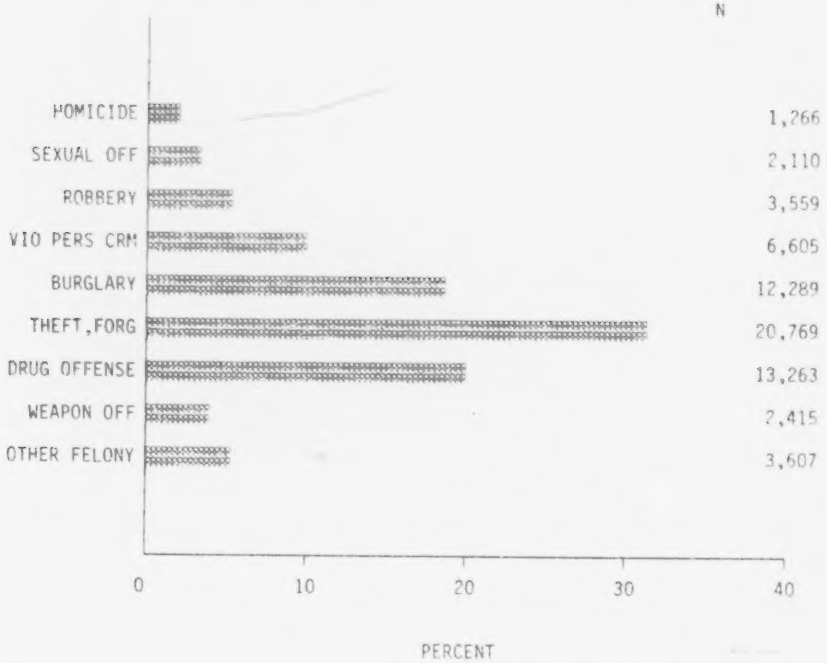
DISTRIBUTION OF SENTENCES BY OFFENSE CATEGORY



Trials occurred in only four percent of the cases. Adjudication was based on a plea in 80% of the cases and unreported in 16%. Approximately 62% of all offenses have no previous felony convictions. Offenders are also predominantly male (85%) and less than 30 years of age (57%).

Overall, approximately 81% of the sentences are within the recommended guideline range. Of the 19% which depart from guidelines, 7% are more severe and 12% are less severe than the recommended sentence. As is shown in Figure 5, compliance rates have been relatively stable over time, recently experiencing a slight decrease in aggravations combined with an increase in conformity.

While compliance rates approximate the statewide average in the majority of circuits, they do exhibit a fairly wide range, from a low of 68% conformity in the second circuit to a high of 88% in the sixteenth circuit. Likewise, there is considerable variation in the aggravation and mitigation rates across circuits. Aggravations range from 5% in the twelfth and fifteenth circuits to 13% in the third and fourteenth circuits. Similarly, mitigations vary from 3% in the sixteenth circuit to 21% in the second circuit.

Although the overall level of compliance is high, there is also substantial variation in departure rates by offense. Several offense categories, including some of the more serious crimes, exhibit higher departure rates than the average due, in most instances, to mitigations rather than aggravations. In particular, several offense categories, including robbery, sexual offenses and all other felonies, have notably high rates of mitigated sentences. The homicide category also has a high departure rate, but it reflects deviations both above and below the recommended range. In only two instances, burglary and weapon offenses, does the aggravation rate actually exceed the mitigation rate. Figure 6 shows the percentage of departures from guidelines by offense category.

PERCENTAGE DEPARTURES FROM GUIDELINES
BY OFFENSE CATEGORY

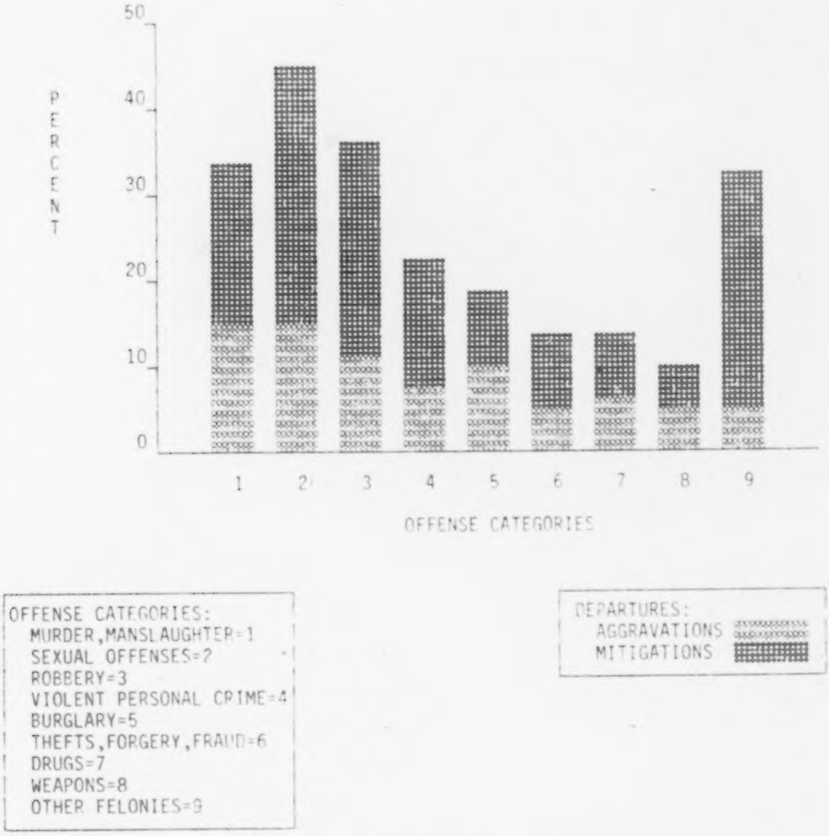

Figure 7 shows the breakdown of sentences by the most severe sanction imposed. Probation is the harshest penalty imposed in 45% of the cases. The median length of probation is two and one-half years. Incarceration in a state prison is the most severe sanction for 32% of the offenders. The length of incarceration ranges widely from one month to 150 years, but averages three years. A sentence to county jail constitutes the strictest penalty in 16% of the cases with an average length of six months. Finally, community control is involved as the harshest sentence for 7% of the offenders and is usually for a period of less than two years.

APPELLATE REVIEW OF GUIDELINE SENTENCES

The Sentencing Guidelines Commission reviews the appellate case law concerning sentencing guidelines in line with the obligation to correct and analyze data concerning sentencing practices. Under the present laws of the state, an individual who receives a sentence which deviates from the recommendation is entitled to have a district court of appeal review that departure to determine if, in fact, clear and convincing reasons existed.

The majority of cases appealed involving guidelines deal with the issue of what is a clear and convincing reason for departure. Other matters which frequently appear concern the proper calculation of the sentence on the face of the scoresheet, the application of guidelines to a particular case, calculation of prior conviction record, and the mandatory requirements of the Rule of Criminal Procedure encompassing sentencing guidelines. At the time of the preparation of this report, a total of 650 appellate court decisions with opinions have been issued involving sentencing guideline issues.
